3. summary of health effects of ionizing radiation - ionizing radiation 82 3. summary of health effects of ionizing radiation appeared to have redistributed from the lungs to the bones and, given its long physical half-time ($t_{1/2}$) of 28.6 years, would have irradiated the surrounding tissues for a lengthy period of time to produce a sources and effects of ionizing radiation - unscar - neutron and ionizing radiation fields, and the dosimetry of inhaled radon is complicated by the complexities and variations of the interacting factors and processes involved. 5. many exposures to natural radiation sources are modified by human practices. in particular, natural radionuclides are released to the environment in mineral chapter 5 biological effects of ionizing radiation page - rssc biological effects of ionizing radiation 08/11 5-3 biological effects of ionizing radiation i. introduction the fact that ionizing radiation produces biological damage has been known for many years. the first case of human injury was reported in the literature just a few months following sources and effects of ionizing radiation - largeanford - of the sources of ionizing radiation and of the effects of that radiation on human health and the environment. in pur-suit of its mandate, the committee thoroughly reviews and evaluates global and regional exposures to radiation; and it evaluates evidence of radiation-induced health effects in the biological effects of radiation - webfiless.ufl - 19 gastrointestinal syndrome prodromal stage: vomiting and diarrhea occur within hours and last up to one day latent period: lasts 3-5 days manifest illness: nausea, vomiting and diarrhea - worsens to bloody stools death within 4 to 10 days after exposure primarily due to intestinal cell damage - also damage to blood-forming tissue results in hemorrhaging and dehydration. 7. what are the health effects of ionizing radiation? - nj - effects on populations are estimated. 7. what are the health effects of ionizing radiation? radiation effects on a cell when a cell absorbs radiation, there are four possible effects on the cell. • the cell may suffer enough damage to cause loss of proper function, and the cell will die. • the cell may lose its ability to reproduce itself. sources, effects and risks of ionizing radiation - collective dose, for many years to compare the radiation exposures of populations from different sources of ionizing radiati, or following different protection measureson . in particular, the quantity provides a convenient basis for comparing the impacts of radioactive discharges from nuclear and other sources and effects of ionizing radiation - largeanford - the effects of exposure to ionizing radiation on non-human biota given in this annex. in particular, the committee used the information from its review to re-evaluate its recom-mendations on dose rates below which exposure to ionizing radiation is unlikely to result in detrimental effects on popu-
